Verify Improvements for QC Data UK Limited

This year QC Data UK Limited has once again improved its already creditable performance under the Achilles Verify programme for Safety, Health, Environment and Quality, having been accredited for the first time in 2007. Achilles' supplier management schemes improve the efficiency of the procurement cycle while promoting health and safety, environmental management and wider corporate responsibility in the supply chain. Our accreditation not only provides assurances to potential customers surrounding the standard of our company systems, but is critical to the retention of a number of our current contracts where it is a prerequisite to doing business.

External audit is conducted annually and to date has consisted of a regional and satellite office audit every two years, and an interim satellite office audit every year. This year the interim audit was conducted at our new Dartford office and produced outstanding results with improvement in all three areas when compared to 2009's outcomes:

	2009	2010
H&S	82.3%	92.7%
Environmental	78.5%	87.5%
Quality	90.9%	92.7%

The challenges associated with meeting the extensive criteria for this accreditation are significant. It is testimony to both our company systems and the effective implementation of them by the management and team in Dartford that we were able to secure such high marks. The standard set this year provides a high benchmark for subsequent years when continued accreditation will depend on successful annual audits at both regional and satellite offices.
